Chad did an excellent job at our property! He was on time, professional, thorough, answered all our questions, and got us the inspection report quickly. I would very highly recommend Chad to anyone purchasing a house in the greater Raleigh Durham area!

Awesome service and used Bullseye several times in the past. Very detailed inspection, and Chad had to make multiple trips out to a home with an uncooperative agent, still got it done!

We recently had our home inspection done by Bullseye Home Inspectors, and we couldn't be more impressed! He was incredibly thorough, taking his time to carefully document every aspect of the home, leaving no detail overlooked. His professionalism was matched by his friendly and approachable demeanor, making the entire process stress-free and informative. Chad was also super helpful, patiently answering all of our questions. If you're looking for someone who combines expertise with excellent customer service, I highly recommend Chad for your home inspection needs!

We're so glad we chose Chad as our home inspector. His thoroughness and attention to detail gave us a clear understanding of the property's condition. His communication was excellent throughout the process, and the report he provided was easy to read, well-organized, and incredibly helpful—especially the option to create a repairs list directly from the findings. What really stood out was Chad's availability after the inspection. He went above and beyond by offering trusted recommendations for service professionals, which we didn't expect but deeply appreciated. It made the whole process feel more manageable and supportive. Highly recommend!

Look no further...Bullseye Home Inspector hits the mark with home inspections!!! Chad provided exceptional service! His process is seamless! He communicated clearly before and after the service. The report was extremely detailed and thorough, including photos with the narrative. He remained open to discuss his findings...clearly he is dedicated to providing a comprehensive professional experience! I chose well by allowing Bullseye Home Inspector to assist me with this important part of my home purchase!

Chad Baker was our inspector and he did an amazing job. The best part about him and his inspection was his willingness to clarify on different line items and transparency about what needed to get done. We feel much more secure purchasing our home knowing that he looked at it. Well done Bullseye Home Inspectors, and a big thank you to Chad!

My wife and I recently made an offer on a home, and we were looking for an inspector who was thorough, accessible, and clear such that we'd have confidence in our purchase. BullsEye Home Inspectors provided all these and more! From scheduling the appointment to follow up conversations, Chad did not rush any aspect of the process and detailed many things that we would have missed. His descriptions and recommendations were well-documented, exhaustive, and detailed. He used top-notch technology to ensure the best results, and his web-portal for accessing the information is professional, clean, and organized. His services are competitively priced, and the personal touches made us glad we went with him! I highly recommend using BullsEye!

I've been a contractor for more than 25 years. I've dealt with my fair share of home inspectors I can say that Chad is far and away the most professional, the most detailed and the most caring inspector I've ever met. His communication is flawless, and his reports are incredibly detailed. So impressive, he doesn't miss a thing. I wholeheartedly recommend if you're searching for a home inspector you can count on, look no further call Bull's-eye and Chad! God bless you and Thank you again for everything.
